

Inspirational, Marriage and Infidelity Quotes

Here is a collection quotes from a past discussion. We thought it would be easier for you to read and would make a nice little piece that you can print out and save. We've also left a few blank pages at the end so that you can add more quotes or words of inspiration as time goes on if you so desire.

Please note: Since we simply copied and pasted the quotes that were provided by the readers, we weren't able to attribute them to their respective authors in all instances. We apologize for that. End of disclaimer. ;-)

"The person you marry, is not the person you divorce."- Unknown

“Those who are faithless know the pleasures of love; it is the faithful who know love’s tragedies.” – Oscar Wilde

“What a kid I got, I told him about the birds and the bees and he told me about the butcher and my wife.” – Rodney Dangerfield

“It is not a lack of love, but a lack of friendship that makes unhappy marriages.” – Friedrich Nietzsche

“So it’s not gonna be easy. It’s going to be really hard; we’re gonna have to work at this everyday, but I want to do that because I want you. I want all of you, forever, everyday. You and me... everyday.” – Nicholas Sparks

“The unexamined life is not worth living.” – Socrates

“Courage: the most important of all the virtues because without courage, you can’t practice any other virtue consistently.” – Maya Angelou

“God has a plan for your life. The Enemy has a plan for your life. Be ready for both. Just be wise enough to know which one to battle and which one to embrace.”

“Joy: the unwavering trust that God knows what He’s doing and has blessed me with the opportunity to be a part of it. Not despite what’s happening in my life but because of it. When everything earthy feels heavy he gives me an internal lightness that can't be reached."

"Don't mistake my kindness for weakness. I am kind to everyone, but when someone is unkind to me weak is not what you are going to remember about me." (Al Capone)

"The more I understand about the human mind and the human experience, the more I begin to suspect that there is no such thing as unhappiness, there is only ungratefulness."

"Life will always throw you curves, just keep fouling them off. The right pitch will come and when it does be prepared to run the bases."

"I want to make you stand in awe of everything we refused to give up on."

"Hurt me with the truth but never comfort me with a lie."

"The only people who are mad at you for speaking the truth are those people who are living a lie. Keep speaking truth."

“I don’t hold grudges. I remember facts.”

“Let me break this down for you. If you don’t want me to call you an ahole, don’t be an ahole.”

“No, no. I’m listening. It just takes me a minute to process so much stupid.”

“Oh. I offended you with my opinion? You should hear the ones I keep to myself.”

“Let me know when you’re able to emotionally process me calling you out on your bullsh*t. I’ll be here.”

“I’m not really a b*tch. I’m just a woman with a backbone.”

“If you think the grass is greener on the other side, it’s because it’s fertilized with bullsh*t.”

“Do not ever underestimate my ability to find sh*t out.”

“I’m not really a b*tch all the time. You just don’t like when I call you out on your bullsh*t. ALL THE TIME!”

“You knew what I was when you picked me up.” - It’s from the Native American fable about the rattle snake who wants a ride across the river and tells whoever he is talking to (another animal, I guess) that he won’t bite him when they get to the other side. Of course he is lying and bites the animal, who then dies. When he is shocked by the deception, the rattle snake says “You knew what I was when you picked me up.” So anytime you are messing with something you shouldn’t, there is a point where you rationalize what you are doing and pick it up anyway.

“If you were on fire and I had a glass of water....I’d drink it.”

“Cheating is not a mistake, it’s a choice.”

— Maya Angelou

“When someone shows you who they are, believe them” — Maya Angelou

Two Wolves

An old Cherokee chief is teaching his grandson about life:

“A fight is going on inside me,” he said to the boy. “It is a terrible fight and it is between two wolves.

“One is evil – he is anger, envy, sorrow, regret, greed, arrogance, self-pity, guilt, resentment, inferiority, lies, false pride, superiority, self-doubt, and ego.

“The other is good – he is joy, peace, love, hope, serenity, humility, kindness, benevolence, empathy, generosity, truth, compassion, and faith.

“This same fight is going on inside you – and inside every other person, too.”

The grandson thought about it for a minute and then asked his grandfather,
“Which wolf will win?”

The old chief simply replied, “The one you feed.”

“Choose your love, love your choice.”

“No man succeeds without a good woman behind him, wife or mother, if it is both, he is twice blessed indeed.”

“Success or failure depends more upon attitude than upon capacity, successful men act as though they have accomplished or are enjoying something. Soon it becomes a reality. Act, look, feel successful, conduct yourself accordingly, and you will be amazed at the positive results.”

“In order to succeed you must fail, so that you know what not to do next time.”

“Success is how high you bounce when you hit bottom.”

“Success does not consist in never making mistakes but in never making the same one a second time.”

“Have regular hours of work and play, make each day both useful and pleasant, and prove that you understand the worth of time by employing it well. Then youth will be delightful, old age will bring few regrets, and life will become a beautiful success.”

“I can’t promise to solve all your problems, but I can promise you won’t have to face them alone.”

“Bad marriages don’t cause affairs. Affairs cause bad marriages.”

“Trash is its own reward.”

“A stiff cock has no conscience”

Half the harm that is done in this world
Is due to people who want to feel important
They don't mean to do harm –
But the harm does not interest them.
Or they do not see it, or they justify it
Because they are absorbed in the endless struggle
To think well of themselves.

T. S. Eliot

“It is necessary to the happiness of man that he be mentally faithful to himself. Infidelity does not consist in believing or in disbelieving; it consists in professing to believe what he does not believe.” – Thomas Paine

“When the wrong people leave your life the right things start happening.”

“Real men stay faithful. They don’t have time to look for other women because they’re too busy looking for ways to love their own.”

“When I get sad I stop being sad and be awesome instead.”

“If a woman asks you a question it’s better to tell her the truth because chances are she’s asking you because she already knows the answer.”

“A strong woman is one who is able to smile this morning like she wasn’t crying last night.”

“If you don’t want anyone to find out, don’t do it!”

“The first to apologize is the bravest, the first to forgive is the strongest, and the first to forget is the happiest.”

“So you’re sleeping with a married man? Girl, you’re going to hell on a scholarship!”

“I can choose to let it define me, confine me, refine me, outshine me, or I can choose to move on and leave it behind me.”

“Let your faith be bigger than your fear.”

“I’ve read so many bad things about sex, smoking, drinking, drugs ... that I decided to stop reading.”

“There comes a time in life, when you walk away from all the drama and people who create it. Surround yourself with people who make you laugh, forget the bad and focus on the good, love the people who treat you right, pray for the ones who don't. Life is too short to be anything but happy. Falling down is part of life, getting back up is living."
